

MARITIME MANAGEMENT

Maritime Management's experienced team of marine surveyors is able to tackle any project, big or small, from yacht and fishing boat surveys to offshore and onshore oil installations, as well as large ships and all types of cargo.

Our surveyors have gained experience with some of the largest classification, technical survey, ship owners and offshore engineering companies in the world. Our onshore, offshore and marine gas experience includes General Cargo, Tankers, LNG and LPG. In addition, we have extensive knowledge and experience of international, governmental, classification society, oil major and insurance company requirements, particularly in Irish marine legislation and regulatory requirements and their interpretation.
